

Program Facilitators needed for...

A Randomized Controlled Trial (RCT) of a sexual assault resistance education program for adolescent girls

- Positions available in Windsor, London, Kingston, and Simcoe/Brantford (3 at each site)
- Part-time employment in the Department of Psychology, University of Windsor starting Dec. 1, 2022 for 2-years
- Work an average of 10 hours per week across the timeframe of the study (actual hours will vary, but will generally fall between 7 and 20 hours per week), $30/h
- Due to the sensitive nature of the research and contact with participants, Program Facilitators must identify as women and be 26y or younger
- Program Facilitators will report to the Facilitation Trainer, Site Coordinator, and Research Manager, Department of Psychology, University of Windsor

Successful candidates must be:

- Available for in-person training on Jan 13-15, Feb 21-23 in Windsor and Jan 27-29 in Toronto (expenses will be paid).
- Able to work evening and weekend hours to deliver the sexual assault resistance program (in pairs) over the course of the project.

Duties and Responsibilities:

- Becoming trained to provide the prevention program (including self-defence instruction)
- Learning the theoretical and empirical basis of sexual assault prevention and education
- Working with the other facilitators (in pairs) to deliver the 12-hour program to groups of adolescents ~12-16 times between March 2023- November 2024
- Meeting regularly in person and by teleconference with the facilitation trainer and other project team members
- Organizing and setting up for each program session
- Maintaining email/phone contact with adolescent participants involved in the program

- Contributing to the research team and overall goal of the RCT by completing participant attendance records and reporting any issues to the research team
- Other duties as required

Essential Qualifications:

- Comfort with sensitive topics, particularly women’s sexuality and violence against girls and women; ability to talk about these issues frankly and with sensitivity
- Excellent interpersonal and communication skills including comfort reading aloud, clearly and with emotion
- Excellent organizational skills and attention to detail
- Comfort and effectiveness in dealing with conflict
- Ability to work as an effective team member both in delivering the program in pairs and in contributing to the research
- Good judgement and problem-solving skills
- Ability to deal well with stress and time pressures
- Computer skills including Word and Excel and willingness to learn other applications
- Flexible schedule, as hours will vary each week
- Must be able to pass a Vulnerable Sector Check
- Access to a computer for video-conferencing and other project-related duties
- Driver's licence and access to a vehicle

Preferred Qualifications:

- Research experience in the social sciences and knowledge of experimental procedures
- Previous work/experience with issues around violence against girls/women
- Previous work/experience as a program facilitator/group moderator

Review of applications begins November 1, 2022. Position starts December 1, 2022

For any questions or issues, email marina.sadik@uwindsor.ca

Submit cover letter, resume, and contact info for 3 references via application link:
<https://redcap.link/girlsresist>

University of Windsor

Project funded by the Public Health Agency of Canada

Public Health
Agency of Canada

Agence de la santé
publique du Canada